this year...sixty-one

Soon we will leave behind our senior year. No more books to carry. No school uniforms. The teachers will transfer. Our friends will scatter. The building we will see no more. Everything will change. But one thing we can keep with us for the remainder of our lives and nothing can take away. The one thing is the memory of our high school days, especially our senior year.

September, 1960, saw the reopening of school, the renewing of old friendships lapsed during summer vacation. Class schedules received and altered, books purchased, a new member of the class all helped to get us into the swing of things. Our class rings, received in our junior year, meant even more to us when we were seniors. They will perpetuate our class especially because we have set a standard ring insignia for all other classes to follow.

Our three-day retreat last fall was made as painless as possible by the humor of Fr. Robert Hunt.

Football games were played in a revised league - some won, some lost. Homecoming weekend started out with a street dance, the game and crowning of the court the next night, and a dance in the gym Sunday evening.

The senior-parent dance was fun for all who attended, as was the annual Thanksgiving dance.

A foreign exchange student from Holland came during the first semester, bringing her native culture. And who will forget the trips down to Powell Studios for our graduation pictures?

The enthusiasm of the cheerleaders and the pep rallies enlivened the basketball season just as much as they had during the football games.

The appearance of five of our seniors on "Quiz 'em on the Air," and their victory over St. Mary of Redford brought to the school a feeling of pride and a portable television set.

The senior class play, this year replacing the Christmas program usually put on by the chorus classes, introduced new talent to the student body. And the senior-junior party held the Sunday before Christmas was made notable by the special appearance of "Santa Claus" on the scene.

Although the date itself, January 28, may be forgotten, the good times had at the annual, semi-formal "A" Dance in the gym will not.

Valentine's Day was the night of the Mardi Gras dance. The theme, Fantasia, was carried throughout; and new this year was the replacement of stamps, coupons, etc., for money as votes for reigning king and queen. Also, the talent program and parade was held the night before for the parents and friends of the student body.

The season of Lent was a time of readjusting our values and determining to be better Catholics.

First place in the multiple readings at Genesis Interpretation Festival was won by three seniors.

The spring operetta, "The King and I," was presented by the junior-senior chorus.

Our senior prom was just a little bit better than last year's because we were the guests of the junior class. May 12 was the date and the League of Catholic Women's Hall was the place.

Cramming for exams, student council elections and inaugural ball, senior recollection day, and installation of C.S.M.C. officers were all part of the end-of-the-year frenzy.

Then graduation week when seniors were supreme!! Finally came graduation itself with its smiles and tears.

In leaving St. Anthony, we dedicate this presentation of our senior year to all future graduating classes. We will lose many of the things we now have, but they will be replaced by better and greater ones. And the memory of this year, 1961, no one can destroy.
